Chinese Step Up Counter-Blows

It is essential to clarify the mind on the subject of the atom bomb. War may not be inevitable, but no one can say that there is not more than a fair chance of it. When the trend towards war began, the atom bomb was in everybody's mind as a sure and swift means of Western victory. The trend has advanced perilously, but it is doubtful if reliance upon the atom bomb is anything like as confident as it used to be. The American Congress is to conduct an inquiry into the prospects of the atomic weapon as a means of redressing the balance between Russo-Chinese manpower and the limited manpower of the West. The inquiry will be under the Chairmanship of Senator McMahon, who heads the joint Congressional atomic energy committee.

TOKYO, Sunday. — Chinese counter-attacks gained strength today as U.N. troops overcame Communist defenses to advance 16 kms. north of Suwon. But on the flank, halfway between Suwon and Yaju, the Chinese launched a strong frontal and flank attack on American positions 15 kms. north-west of Icheon.

North of Suwon, 8th Army units met their stiffest resistance of the 11-day-old offensive, as Communists, ignoring a constant stream of gunfire and aerial bombing, made counter-attacks after counter-attacks against the Allies' slow advance. U.N. spearheads were within 1½ kms. of Anyang, 15 kms. from the outskirts of Seoul.

Hilltops changed hands many times in hand-to-hand fighting. The Chinese used rockets and 20 and 40mm. "flak traps" against U.N. fighter-bombers flying in close support. After week-long heavy southbound movement of troops and supplies, the Chinese were throwing in heavier mortar and artillery fire in the hilly country south of Seoul.

Four-Day Attack
The principal gain on the Suwon-Kumyanggang sector northeast of Suwon was made by U.S. infantrymen who scaled a 597-foot hill where the Chinese had held out for four days.

Hill 431, 11 kms. west-northwest of Suwon, changed hands five times in 24 hours as Turks and Chinese grappled.

U.K. Press Condemns Nazi Releases
LONDON, Sunday (INA). — Almost the entire Sunday press today voiced misgivings — though with a varying degree of vehemence — at yesterday's release of Nazi war criminals from Landsberg prison.

While stressing mainly the potential military dangers of German rearmament, the papers do not unreservedly condemn the release of the prisoners. The Times, for example, while condemning the release of the prisoners, also notes that the release of the prisoners is a "by-product" of the German desire to secure peace.

U.S. Strike Halts War Shipments
CHICAGO, Sunday (Reuters). — America's railway strike, which has spread to 50 railroad companies and 100 cities, today threatened a shortage of ammunition for the U.N. forces in Korea.

An Army spokesman said here that ammunition which should have been on the way to the front-line had been halted in mid-West, and that the strike would take into account India's behavior at U.N.

VIETNAM: Rebels violently attacked a French reconnaissance patrol near Hanoi on Sunday, a French communiqué said in Saigon yesterday. The French were quickly rescued by mobile reserves and warplanes which strafed the rebels.

Atomic Dust In Chicago Streets
CHICAGO, Sunday (Reuters). — Chicago's streets are radioactive — giving a menacing aspect to the snow left after a recent storm. Scientists reported here today that its radioactivity was "far below" any danger level.

Pessimism at UN Over Prospects Of 'Good Offices'

LAKE SUCCESS, Sunday (Reuters). — General Assembly President Narasimhan today said he was determined to try and set up a Good Offices Committee to bring about a cease-fire agreement in Korea.

U.N. diplomats, however, privately expressed pessimism, after Chou en-Lai, Communist China's Premier and Foreign Minister, yesterday denounced the resolution branding his country as an aggressor and asserted that his Government would pay "absolute no attention" to the proposed committee.

Congress Review Of Troop Pact Asked
WASHINGTON, Sunday. — Senator Robert Taft, leader of the Republican Policy Committee, today demanded that President Truman submit to Congress any agreement he might make to dispatch American troops to North Atlantic Pact countries.

The Senator thought that General Eisenhower had made a "good impression" on Congress, but was "not definite enough" in his report on the state of West Europe's defenses.

Tito Fortifies Bosnian Redoubt
HEIDELBERG, Sunday (UP). — Marshal Tito is speeding plans to fortify his Bosnian mountain redoubt against possible aggression this spring, and reorganizing his 700,000-man army into "hit and run" units of 50 men, authoritative sources said here yesterday.

P.M. Urges Industrialists To Put National Interests First

TEL AVIV, Sunday. — Prime Minister David Ben Gurion and Finance Minister Eliezer Kaplan today urged industrialists to subordinate their interests to those of national security and the ingathering of exiles. They were speaking at the formal opening session of the Bi-Annual General Meeting of the Manufacturers' Association in the Habimah Theatre.

Speaking of the lock-out in the metal industry, Mr. Ben Gurion asked for a conciliatory approach. The working out of ultimate spiritual, social and political issues must wait for a more propitious hour, he said; that what was needed at present was a "regime of compromise" in all matters except security and the ingathering of exiles. He also gave it as his opinion that political interests had motivated the lock-out.
